Profile

My name is Francisco Moreira, I was born in Vila Nova de Famalicão, Portugal, where I currently live. I am 20 years old and finished a degree in Technologies and Information Systems for the Web of the School of Media Arts and Design, course that has captivated me a lot since the beginning, since the generations of today are increasingly connected to this medium, this arousing a certain personal curiosity that led me to find out more about this technological world. I also like team works because it's good to keep contact with someone while some work it's being done. My fav language is JavaScript and I love programing for the web, focused on the frond-end development.
